Three Japanese who were building a sampan on Sunday down in Kakaako were arrested by a police officer on the complaint of a resident, who said he thought the work was unnecessary, and could just as well be done on week days. Best Raid of All.

The best planned police raid of the Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff Rose, who, with a posse of officers, surrounded the Akwai building on Beretania Ave, and Achi lane, and bagged thirtyfive alleged gamblers. deceive the police.

Previous to going to the house the deputy marked several pieces of silver money which were placed in the hands of a couple of informers. One of these was admitted to the basement gambling room and played awhile. Later his confederate was admitted, whereupon the first one left and immediately informed the deputy who was waiting a few blocks away that nearly fifty Chinese were in the place dallying with dice and dominoes in the fascinating game of paikau. The deputy sent for officers and surrounded the entire building, thus shutting off egress. The numerous secret doorways and panels baffled the officers for some time, so that when they gained entrance to the room there were no signs of a game. Some Chinese were found there and others in various rooms upstairs. D. L. Akwai, who lives upstairs, was found in an apartment and he was included in the bunch of thirtyfive. When searched several pockets yielded up marked coins, showing that in some manner or other the evidence coins had been transferred from the informers to the alleged gamblers. Possibly a defense of paying off debts will be set up to account for the presence of these coins in the pockets of others than the informers who introduced them. The case was set over until tomorrow morning. It is understood that Judge Humphreys has been retained to defend the case.

This same building was raided a couple of years ago by the grand jury, or rather visited by that body, and the members were astounded at the indoors, secret panels in walls, and wires leading to doors and other openings, all used to prevent entrance by others than those who knew the ropes. The contrivances were designed to deceive the police. As a result of the grand jury investigation Willie Crawford had to stand trial for allegedly being con nected with the game.

Crawford is now Hawaiian interpreter in the police court and it is said that an effort is being made to introduce him there as Chinese interpreter to replace a young Chinese. It is understood that Judge Andrade has no intention of yielding to certain influences by giving him the coveted appointment.

Sentence Was Suspended.

Sentence was suspended in the case of Mrs. Markle in police court yesterday morning, when the charge of purloining a large quantity of copper wire belonging to the Rapid Transit Company was read. The request for a sus pended sentence came from the Rapid Transit Company, owing to The fact that the woman has a large family and is poor, and a sentence would impose a hardship on those dependent upon her.
